

Translab.io

Policy Title: Prohibition on Employment of Close Relatives

Policy Statement:

Translab.io is dedicated to upholding a professional and ethical work environment. This policy outlines guidelines for the employment of relatives within Translab.io to prevent conflicts of interest, promote fairness, and ensure transparency in our workplace.

The employment of relatives in the same area of an organization may cause serious conflicts and problems with favouritism and employee morale. In addition to claims of partiality in treatment at work, personal conflicts from outside the work environment can be carried into day-to-day working relationships.

Scope:

This policy applies to all employees, trainee and interns employed at Translab.io.

Implementation:

The policy is implemented from 16th Feb 2024.

However, going forward, Translab.io will not be hiring any relatives either on permanent or on contract basis.

1. Definition of Relatives

Relatives encompass individuals related by blood, marriage, or domestic partnership. This includes spouses, children, parents, siblings, aunts, uncles, nieces, nephews, cousins, and in-laws.

2. Disclosure of Relationship

Employees must promptly disclose any existing or potential relative relationships that could arise within Translab.io. This disclosure should be made to the HR department as soon as the relationship becomes known.

3. Recruitment Process

In instances where individuals who are relatives of current employees apply for positions at Translab.io, the company will ensure a fair evaluation based on skills, qualifications, and experience. Relatives must meet the same recruitment criteria as any other candidate.

4. Reporting Structure

Immediate relatives (spouse, children, parents, siblings) are prohibited from working in the Organization. This regulation is designed to avert conflicts of interest, bias, and undue influence.

5. Preventing Favouritism

Employees are expected to refrain from actions that may result in preferential treatment or conflicts of interest due to their relative relationships. Fairness in assignments, promotions, and benefits is paramount.

6. Confidentiality

Information about relative relationships will be treated confidentially by the HR Department. However, disclosure may be necessary for organizational planning or to prevent conflicts.

Communication

- New employees will receive information about this policy during their onboarding process.
- Existing employees will be notified through various internal communication methods, including company-wide emails, the employee handbook, and internal platforms.
- The HR Department will oversee policy implementation and enforcement.

Review and Revision

Translab.io is committed to regularly reviewing and updating this policy as necessary to ensure its effectiveness and alignment with the company's goals and values. Any revisions to the policy will be communicated to all employees in a timely manner, and feedback will be solicited to inform future enhancements.

Legal Compliance

Translab.io's Employee Relative Policy is meticulously crafted to comply with employment laws and regulations while upholding fairness and professionalism. Developed with legal counsel guidance, it aligns with anti-discrimination laws like Title VII, prohibiting familial favouritism or discrimination.
